Introducing the National Trauma Training Programme

The experience and impact of trauma and adversity in the lives of Scottish people is more pervasive than has previously been recognised and has been exacerbated by the COVID pandemic. The National Trauma Training Programme supports the shared ambition of the Scottish Government, COSLA and partners from across Scotland to a trauma informed and responsive nation and workforce that is capable of recognising where people are affected by trauma and adversity, able to respond in ways that prevent further harm while supporting recovery, and can address inequalities & improve life chances. For more information about the NTTP visit our website:

<https://transformingpsychologicaltrauma.scot/>

This free webinar is open to anyone with an interest in learning more about the National Trauma Training Programme. The session will:

- Provide an overview of the National Trauma Training Programme and its role in supporting organisational recovery from the impact of COVID 19.
- Update on commitments across local authorities and public services.
- Introduce the freely accessible animations, workshops and learning modules to support you to develop and build trauma informed, skilled and responsive practice in your role and service.
- Highlight the importance of leadership in driving trauma informed change.

To register your interest in attending the webinar, please register using the following link:-

Build back better

What a recovery mind-set can offer the future of Scotland's mental health and wellbeing

Developed from conversations at their online cafés, the Build back better report and animation highlight the need for lived experience, peer support and communities to be at the heart of creating and delivering mental health support <http://bit.ly/Buildbackbetter>

This new report and animation complement the Staying connected resources they launched in the summer. Scottish Recovery Network would love to hear how you are using these resources to encourage further conversations and action around mental health and wellbeing in your community / organisation, so please do get in touch.

Worrying About Money

‘Worrying About Money’ is a new resource is available to download from the HIRS website. Please type in the code Mone/001/x to access.

The leaflet highlights where to find support and advice if someone is worrying about money and financial issues.
